Dear Distributors,

Several customers inquired with us about differences they noticed between our GREAT•ful Ultra tincture and GREAT•ful Ultra Boost product. We wanted to send this short description to you all regarding this topic.

GREAT•ful Ultra and GREAT•ful Ultra Boost share the same pure, high quality CBD oil, but are blended with different ingredients which affect their appearance and scent.

Ultra is a purely oil blend, that blends our CBD oil with MCT oil and peppermint to give it a clear appearance and fresh scent.

Boost's patent-pending technology blends CBD oil and water completely (two ingredients that normally don't mix) and has a cloudy appearance. When you hold Boost to the light, it should be translucent. This translucency can vary from batch to batch. Boost will also have a stronger hemp scent as we do not add anything to mask its scent since it's meant to be added to water or your favorite beverage.

We are providing a flyer for you to use with your customers to highlight the differences between GREAT•ful Ultra tincture and GREAT•ful Ultra Boost. Hopefully this will help clear up any questions regarding to its appearance and scent.
